"Tracy Slater's charming The Good Shifu reminded me of Eat, Pray, Love—rewritten by Woody Allen. . . . Brave, unabashed, and also just plain old fun."
—JOANNA RAKOFF, author of MY SALINGER YEAR

A Transformative Journey

In her poignant and inspiring memoir, "Finding Love, Self and Home on the Far Side of the World," the author embarks on an extraordinary journey that leads her to discover her true self, find love in unexpected places, and create a sense of belonging in a foreign land.

Leaving behind the familiar comforts of home, she ventured into the unknown, immersing herself in different cultures, navigating language barriers, and forging connections with people from all walks of life. Along the way, she faced challenges that tested her limits and forced her to confront her own beliefs and assumptions.

With raw honesty and vivid prose, she recounts her experiences of love, loss, heartbreak, and triumph. Through her interactions with locals and fellow travelers, she gains a profound understanding of the human condition and the complexities of cross-cultural relationships.

As she travels deeper into the unknown, she uncovers hidden parts of herself, shedding layers of insecurity and self-doubt. She learns to embrace her strengths, vulnerabilities, and the unique path that life has laid out for her.

"Finding Love, Self and Home on the Far Side of the World" is a must-read for anyone seeking adventure, personal growth, and a deeper connection to the world. It is a story that will inspire you to step outside of your comfort zone, embrace the unknown, and discover the transformative power of love, self-acceptance, and finding home in unexpected places.
