Mia Black's latest novel, Loving The Wrong Man, is a gripping psychological thriller that will keep you on the edge of your seat from beginning to end. The story centers around Sarah, a young woman who falls head over heels for a charming stranger named David. But as their relationship intensifies, Sarah begins to realize that there is more to David than meets the eye.

David is controlling and possessive, and he isolates Sarah from her friends and family. He also has a dark past that he refuses to talk about. As Sarah digs deeper into David's life, she uncovers a web of lies and secrets that threaten to destroy her.

Loving The Wrong Man is a fast-paced and suspenseful thriller that will keep you guessing until the very end. Mia Black does an excellent job of creating a cast of characters that are both believable and relatable. Sarah is a strong and independent woman, but she is also vulnerable and flawed. David is a complex and enigmatic character who is both charming and dangerous.

The novel is also well-written and engaging. Black's prose is clear and concise, and she does a great job of building tension and suspense. The pacing is perfect, and the story never drags. I found myself completely engrossed in the story and couldn't put it down until I finished it.

Overall, Loving The Wrong Man is a gripping and suspenseful psychological thriller that I highly recommend. If you're a fan of this genre, then you won't want to miss this book.
